A Thomais a chara,

I am very sorry for keeping your stories so very long. I read them with great interest, but I realise that there is not really enough to make a book of any more than fifty or sixty pages, and the way things are going now, people want more than that, in comparison with the books that Sarsfield & Co. are putting out.

I hope you will be able to place this script, and perhaps add a few more stories to make a larger book.

We are still very much behind with our work; our staff is still small, and we took in too many big jobs for the Academy

All good wishes.
