IRISH FREE STATE PASSPORTS.

Passports issued before 1st September, 1925, are available for two years, and those issued on or after that date for five years, in the first instance, unless otherwise stated. They may be renewed for further consecutive periods of one to five years from the date of expiry, provided the total period of validity of 10 years from the original date of issue is not exceeded. The fee for each year of renewal is 1s.

The passport is only available for travel to the countries named on page 4, but may be endorsed for additional countries at a fee of 2s. for each addition of one or more countries. The possession of a passport so endorsed does not, however, exempt the holder from compliance with any immigration regulations in force in these countries or from the necessity of obtaining a visa where required.

Persons naturalized in the Irish Free State should bear in mind that their naturalization has no effect within the limits of the Foreign State to which they originally belonged, unless they have ceased to be subjects of that State, in the manner prescribed by the laws thereof or in pursuance of a treaty or convention to that effect.

CAUTION.

This passport is a valuable document and should not be allowed to pass into the possession of any unauthorized person. If lost or destroyed, the fact should be immediately reported to the Passport Office, Department of External Affairs, Dublin. New passports are only to be issued in such cases after exhaustive inquiries.
